JOHN AT CALIFORNIA ST. SALINAS PHONE 424-4522

BELOW - Moments later flames broke through as firemen fought the blaze. Fireman Don Cummings had spotted the smoke from his home and immediately rushed to the scene, calling firemen from his car radio. He and his brother Larry attempted to enter the house but were pushed back by the inferno already ragning. The house had recently been purchased from John Caldwell by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Small of Los Angeles. It had been rented to Lt. (j.g.) Richard Carlson, a student at the Naval Postgraduate School who had moved in with his family only a few days before.

EDITORIAL

Carmel Valley's Chamber of Commerce the past several years, and this year in particular, has been trying hard to be a complete community-serving organization. It has made an effort to broaden its view beyond the traditional narrow one for the business community and to serve the Valley and its residents as a whole.

The Chamber, for example, following the latest incorporation study, went gracefully and willingly along with community concensus which opposed pursuing the subject further. The Chamber had taken pains to invite equal participation on the entire subject with the CV Property Owners Association.

Establishing its position on CV Road planlines, the Chamber polled its members and found that they felt almost exactly the same as CVPOA, which produced parallel recommendations to the County Planning Commission and Supervisors.

Broadening CC service

Understanding that the present strict sign ordinance is what the local people want for good reason, the Chamber has volunteered to work with the local Valley PlanCom Advisory boards and other county agencies to tighten up sign controls.

The Chamber has also volunteered to back up the Fire Department's demands for cleaning vacant lots of ugly weeds, reducing fire hazards and boosting appearance in the commercial areas.

Resolutions from the Chamber have backed the scenic highway concept, plus aiding the Jacks Peak Park with cash, too.

The combined prodding of both CVPOA and the Chamber were major stimulus on P.G. & E. to extend natural gas into the Upper Valley.

A Lower Valley chore the Chamber has taken on is to seek the opinion of residents on switching their postal addresses to Carmel Valley from Carmel, a present state of confusion contributing to delayed mail.

There are the more obvious Chamber promotions, such as production of a four-color Carmel Valley brochure, which is sent out to the 30 or so letter-writers seeking local information each month, and the Chamber has taken up where the Village Committee left off, to promote a Village Master plan, sidewalks in the Village and beautification.

Chamber President Tom Bottaro promises a list of future recommendations as his finale when his term draws to a close in about three months. Without doubt, it will follow the pattern of broad community service.

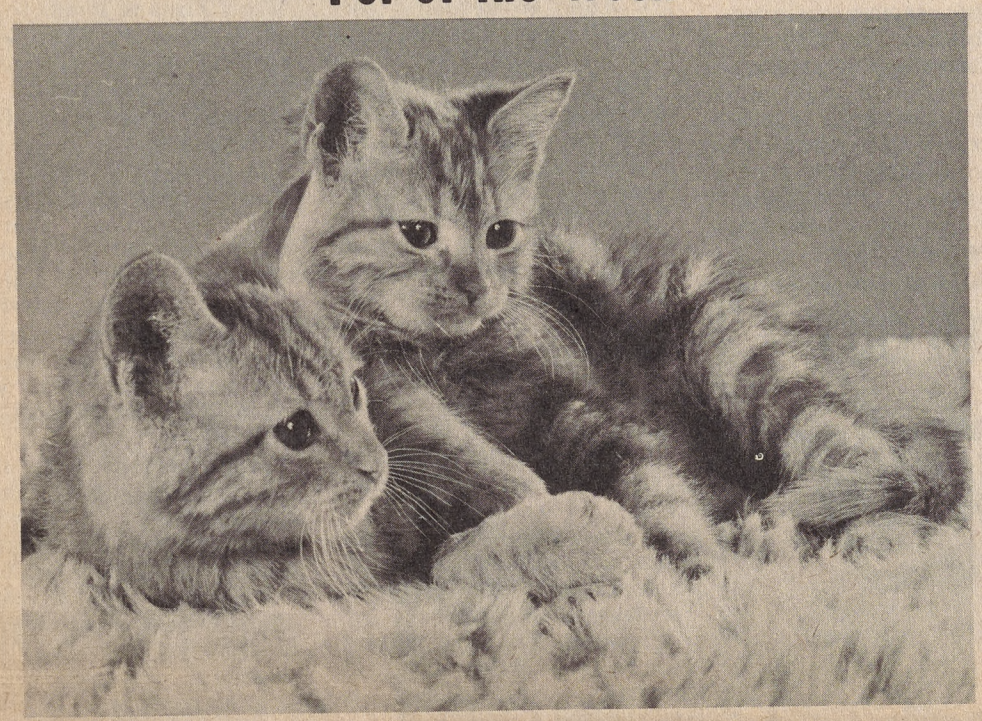
Pet of the Week



TWIN TIGERS. Take your pick of a boy or a girl. Or take them both; they are up for adoption. Any cat fancier will tell you that two kittens are much more fun than one and they grow up to be contented cats, with each other for company.

The Rhyming Philosopher

CIRCUMSTANCE

When I was a child with my motives untamed
And scarcely a thought of my own,
My parents agreed that I shouldn't be blamed
For fearing the terrors unknown.
But when I revolted at going to school
I felt quite impelled from behind
To give recognition to government rule
Directed to changing my mind.

When a man takes a wife in this practical age
(Though truly it's she that takes him),
He shouldn't contend that his stipend or wage
Is managed by masculine whim.
There's food to provide and the devil to pay
Regardless of what he designed;
He'd love to play golf or go fishing some day,
But someone keeps changing his mind.

Give heed to this warning young fellow or miss
To batchelor freedom inclined:
In midst of a kiss you'll discover that this
Is somebody changing your mind!

Historical show to open at the Carmel Museum of Art on Friday

A show which traces the history of early artists in Carmel will open Friday, Aug. 23, to run through mid-December at the Carmel Museum of Art.

Museum Research Director Betty Hoag, who prepared and hung the show in the absence of Curator Kent Seavey, pointed out that it is meant as a tribute to those who organized the Carmel Art Association in 1927 and fought during the bitter years of the depression to establish a permanent gallery for artists of the area. The result was the non-profit corporation which moved into its building on Dolores and 6th in 1934.

A preview reception for Carmel Art Museum members, the Carmel Art Association Board and people who were active in the Carmel art world during the 1927-34 period will be held Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Among the many to be honored will be George Seideneck, Ferdinand Burgdorff, Barnet Segal, Nora Nichols, Abbie Lou Bosworth, Jean Kellogg, Moira Wallace, E. Grace Ward, Elwood Graham and Royden Martin. Mrs. Nellie Montague, who was curator in 1934 has also been invited.

ABOVE - Barbara Jackson (left) was kept busy greeting friends and guests at the gala opening of her new shop, The Toggery, on Mission and Seventh in Carmel.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

Joanne Nix draws students from afar for summer ballet clinic in Carmel

Carmel's famed scenery was enhanced these past two weeks by an inundation of young ballet dancers from all over the Western part of the U.S. and Canada.

Responsible for this pleasant visitation is Mrs. Joanne Nix, director of the Carmel Ballet Academy who presents a summer ballet clinic each year (this is her tenth) at her studio on Mission at 9th.

Eighty young women attended the sessions this year, studying ballet techniques, jazz, choreography, mime and music with Mrs. Nix, assisted by instructors Dale Lefler of Carmel, Jan Collum of Tacoma, Washington, and Olga Fricker of Los Angeles.

Young ladies (12 and up), (hair pulled back tight in the best ballet tradition and with an accent on eye-make-up) have been exploring the town on leotard clad legs and driving up the Valley for a dip in the Community Pool when not practicing their exercises.

The girls were housed in four Carmel homes, rented for the purpose with "house-mothers" in attendance.

Mrs. Nix has seen hundreds of local small fry as well as out-of-towners transformed from "ducklings" into graceful "swans" in the 16 years since she established her academy and during her years as director of dance at the Santa Catalina School for Girls.

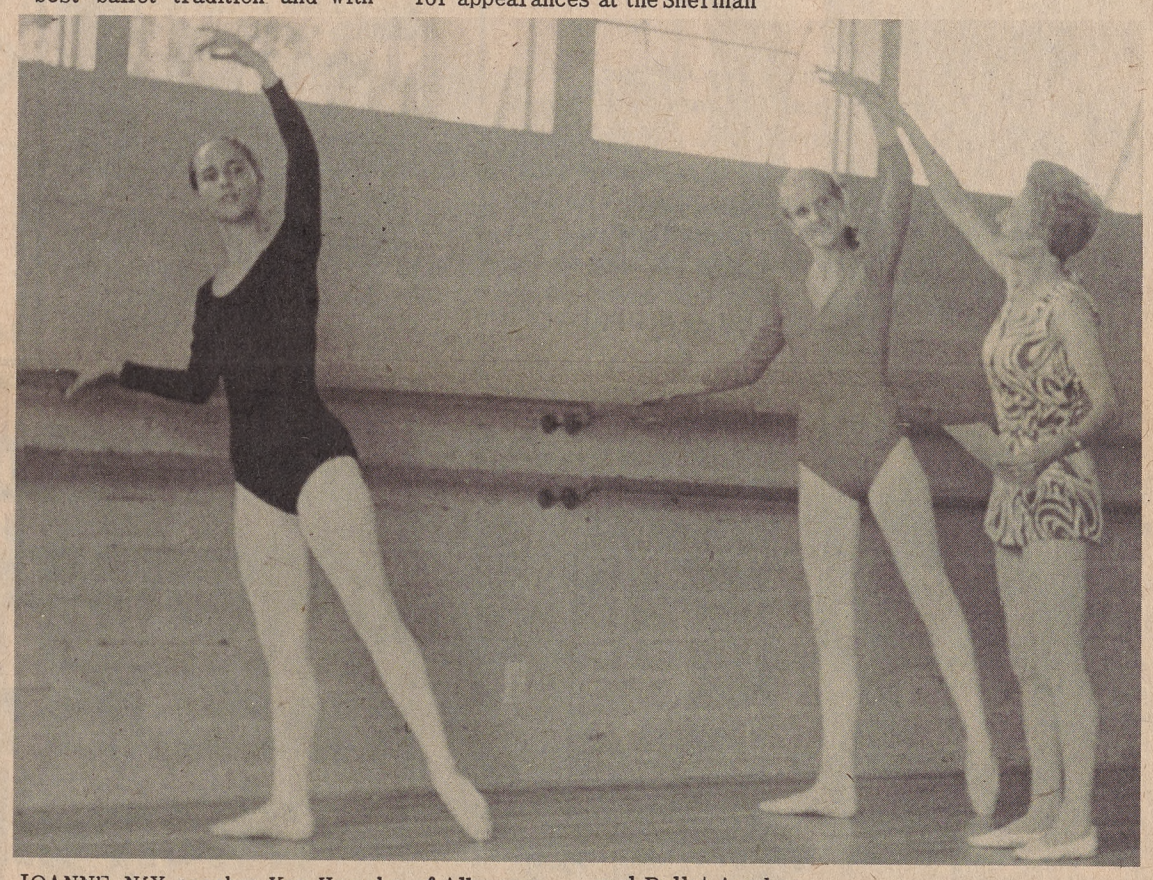
She says it gives her much pleasure to watch grace and poise develop in young bodies. Discipline, control and an appreciation of music are other dividends the ballet student receives, she declares.

Mrs. Nix received her own training in England and is a member of the Imperial Society of Teachers of Dancing, London. She left her native Sussex in 1939 to tour with two other dancers, giving recitals throughout the U.S. and Europe. She was on this side of the Atlantic when the war broke out and she decided to remain "for the duration". But she met and married Dudley Nix, then manager of the Union League Club of San Francisco, and California became her home. She revisits England as often as she can to see her family and to attend seminars at the Royal Ballet in London or the Lombard School of Ballet in Sussex.

Lythe and youthful, with a twinkle in her eye that reminds one of her famous compatriot, Bea Lillie, Mrs. Nix has raised two daughters who embody the grace and character development she wants for all her students.

Sherie Lee Nix is currently dancing in Reno with the Rowen and Martin show with Barry Ashton's group, and rehearsing for appearances at the Sherman House in Chicago. Educated at Santa Catalina and the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, Sherie has appeared with dance groups on TV and in the movies, but she is studying court reporting just in case she needs another career to fall back on some day.

Joanne Louise, (a graduate of Santa Catalina and San Francisco State), is known hereabouts for her folk singing and guitar playing. She teaches 2nd grade at Hays School, Fort Ord, and has just returned from a summer session at Oxford, England, where she studied social sciences, art and music. She is working toward a master's degree in Spanish and hopes to study in Spain next summer.



JOANNE NIX coaches Kay Herndon of Albuquerque during the summer ballet clinic at the Carmel Ballet Academy.

Carmel Adult School courses on law and books

Two new adult-education courses, "Law for Laymen" and "Joy in Books," will be offered this fall by Carmel Adult School, Principal Charles Dawson announced.

Law for Laymen will be given Monday evenings at Carmel High from 7 to 10 by Clyde W. Sturges, an attorney who practices in Monterey and flies his own airplane to teach at Glendale College in Southern California.

Exploring Books will be given at Town House, Carmel, Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to noon and Thursdays at Carmel Valley Manor, West Parlor from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 by Miss Augusta Fink, a published author, book reviewer, columnist and lecturer.

The varied curricula of courses offered in the past will be also repeated at the High School the complete schedule will appear next week in The Outlook.

The only change in instructors will be Adrienne Donaldson teaching painting, succeeding Joe Ataide, who has gone to Mexico City to study and be present for an exhibit of his paintings. Mrs. Donaldson, a Carmel resident, has taught at the Art Institute of Chicago and studied at Chicago's Art Institute and Art Academy.

Attorney Sturges explained that Law for Laymen will offer a survey of various legal areas of basic interest to a layman. "The everyday problems from domestic relations to landlord-tenant, workmen's compensation and other fields to provide the essentials of the law and an up to date review of it, will be offered," he said.

MPC entrance exams slated

New students planning to attend Monterey Peninsula College full time in the fall, as well as all part time or evening students who wish to enroll in English, United States history, American government, psychology, philosophy, sociology or speech classes, will have three more opportunities to take the required placement examination:

Saturday, August 24, 8 a.m. to noon, MPC Library Lecture Hall.

Saturday, August 31, 8 a.m. to noon, Library Lecture Hall.

Tuesday, September 3, 6 to 9:30 p.m., Library Lecture Hall.

Dr. Keith Merrill, evening division dean, pointed out that evening students who can present evidence of previous successful college work to a college counselor may be exempted from taking the test.

It's not too little to carry too much.

The new Volvo 145 is big enough to do what station wagons are supposed to do. Its cargo compartment gives you 70 cubic feet of space. Which is room for enough groceries to fill six large refrigerators.

But on the outside, the Volvo 145 station wagon is no longer, higher or wider than the Volvo 144 sedan. Which makes it small enough to do two things that Volvos are supposed to do—park easily and get good gas mileage.

It's also two things that a Volvo is expected to be—long-lasting and reliable. Volvo's reputation for holding up wasn't gotten by breaking down.

So if you come in and buy a Volvo 145, you won't have to keep coming back to have us fix your wagon.

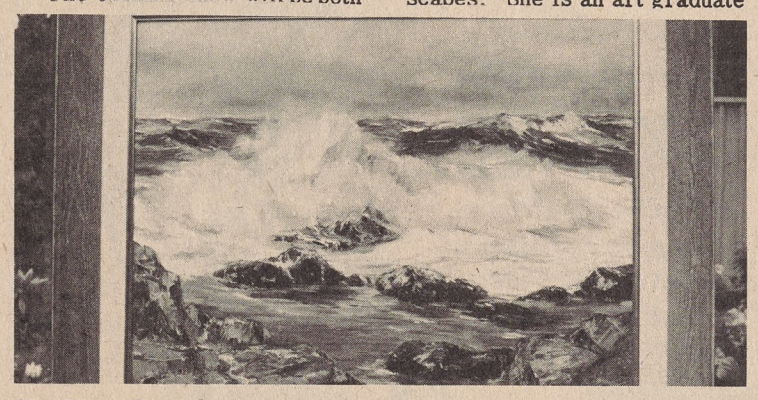
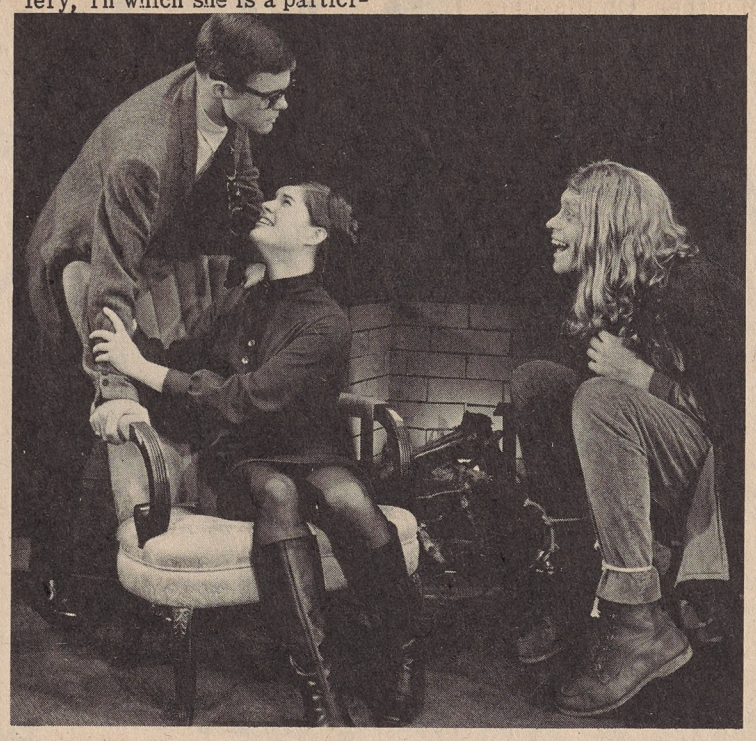
She also has studied with local artists. Clarence Bates, Feg Murray, Kay Rogers, Bennett Bradbury and Nancy Johnson.



SEASCAPES and landscapes are the speciality of Lucile Lyon Herbert, well-known Carmel Valley artist who will be featured in the first outdoor "on the-fence" exhibit this Saturday and Sunday, between White Oak Gallery and CV Co-op Gallery, in which she is a participating artist. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to meet the artists of the Co-op Gallery, including, besides Mrs. Herbert, Bernice Huber, Stan Spohn and Jean Hofsas. Shown here is a seascape by Mrs. Herbert.



MAGEE, the mystery writer (Marshall H. Breeze) and the lovely young newspaper reporter, Mary Norton (Wendy Grissim), don't know whether to laugh or be frightened at the antics of the ghostly hermit of Baldpate (Vern Peckover) in a scene from the George M. Cohan's mystery comedy classic, "Seven Keys To Baldpate", now playing Thursday through Sunday at the Circle Theatre, Carmel.

FAREWELL PARTIES FOR THE BRILLS

Hamilton Air Force Base will be the home for the next year and a half of Maj. and Mrs. Don Brill and family. Don, who was recalled to active duty, is a member of the 349th Military Airlift Transport.

Recalling the exciting Hawaiian Holiday enjoyed a few years ago by the Brills and Doris and John Mark, the Beckstrom home on Country Club Drive was chosen for an Aloha party with the Marks assisting Toy and Bob Beckstrom.

Turkey, ham and teri-yaki cooked on the patio in a huge hibachi was enjoyed with punch by the guests attired in colorful native costumes. Japanese lanterns added to the charm of theHawaiian theme.

Honoring the Brills were Rev. and Mrs. Don Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Doelman, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Mausey, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Seung Paik Park, Dr. and Mrs. Darrell Jewett, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bresk.

Christine Brill was the guest of honor at a barbecue at the Mark home in Robles del Rio. The hostess, Marnie Mark, invited a group of school friends to a cookout where gifts were presented to Christine. Attending were Kathy Weller, Muffet Wilsey, Bonnie Hendrix and Julie and Elaine Bennett.

The paper table cloth with autographs and farewell messages from members of the Junior High Fellowship Group at the CV Community Chapel was the keepsake presented to Lisa Brill at her surprise going-away party. Clusters of balloons, streamers and signs decorating Fellowship Hall were discovered by Lisa when she arrived for last Friday's meeting. Instead under the direction of their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Lucky Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Fisher, the group enjoyed gifts, games, and a three layer cake.

Attending were: Scott Reese, Susan Kaminske, Sandi Harber, Kim Baker, Heidi Hattan, Phillip Green, Enid Rauber, Lyn Farney, Helen a Bresk, Tim Ray, Jana Deck, Sandi Harber and Robert Dimitrijevich. The party continued the following day when accompanied by the Lawsons and Mr. Fisher, a number of the young people and their guest of honor spent the day at the boardwalk in Santa Cruz.

Trips to the boardwalk were also planned by some of their friends for the other two Brill children, Beth and Donnie.

"Be sure and say," said Grace, "that we will miss all of our lovely Valley friends!" -- which makes it mutual since their Country Club Drive neighbors and many Valley friends will surely miss the Brill family who have played such a large role in community affairs.

MIDWEST TRIP

Home from a cross country adventure via their auto are the George Jennings' family of Lilac Lane. Enroute east they stopped for a visit with George's father, Mr. Douglas Jennings of Omaha, Neb. On to Muskegon, Michigan to introduce their smallest daughter, Annie, to Evelyn's mother Mrs. Henry Anderson and to give her an opportunity to get reacquainted with Carol and Bobby.

Returning west, the Valleyites visited George's aunt and uncle - Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marley in Gary, Indiana, and friends in Chicago. They saw and enjoyed impressive Mount Rushmore and the Badlands.

In fact the only anti-climax to their trip as far as six year old Bobby was concerned was the corn in Iowa and Nebraska which just DID NOT compare with his own crop on Lilac Lane!

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Designs in pink and red, the favorite colors of the guest of honor, decorated the cake served by Isabel Collas to the guests attending her recent birthday party. Party-goers enjoyed an afternoon of gifts, games and refreshments at the Paso Hondo home of Isabel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leoncio Collas.

OCAMPO BABY

Charles Brian O'Campo, the newest resident on Via Contenta, was welcomed last weekend at the Community Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Sal O'Campo. He weighed 8 lbs. 13 oz. Taking turns caring for their new brother are Cindy, Larry and Tommy. The baby's maternal grandparents are Mrs. Dorothy Farnham of Pacific Grove and Mr. Dustin Farnham, of Waterford, California.

POTLUCK SUPPER

The Carmel Valley Garden Association's traditional summer potluck supper was repeated last Sunday afternoon in the gardens of Hazel and Bill Milbourn on Boronda Road. Members of the club joined by many former members, enjoyed the tour of Bill's bountiful vegetable gardens, Hazel's lovely flowers and the delicious meal served at numerous redwood and umbrella-shaded tables, placed about the Milbourn's grounds. Assisting with the afternoon festivities was their neighbor and also a member, Mrs. Fae Lloyd.

Programs which have been printed for the September 6th Flower Show, "Autumn Magic" were distributed so that members could assist Valleyites planning to enter with the various classifications.

Serving the punch were Mr, and Mrs. Ben F. Snell of Salinas. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mary Pamela who is a student at the University at Davis, and their houseguest David Lee who recently graduated from a university in London, England. The Milbourns sent personal greetings with Mr. Lee to their friends at Cambridge, England.

CANADIAN VISIT

Susette, Hitchcock Canyon's most traveled poodle, has returned from a tour of Canada. She was accompanied by the couple with whom she makes her home, Margaret and Gordon Brown! Visits in Victoria and Vancouver, Canada's Window on the Pacific, were enjoyed with relatives some of whom the Browns had not seen for thirty years.

(It was in Vancouver that Susette, who had traveled on snow mobiles, ski lifts and various modes of transportation, added to the growing list a ride in a romantic horse-drawn carriage!)

On to view Banff and Lake Louise, scenery which enthralled the Valley couple - by coincidence they later learned that their daughter, her husband and grandchild had left the same day that the Browns began their tour of western Canada for a trip through eastern Canada.

Shortly after arriving home, they welcomed a former Canadian, Gordon's 91 year old mother, Mrs. Stanley (Essie) Brown who now resides in San Francisco with her daughter. Mrs. Brown is one of those favorite guests whose visits are looked forward to by the many friends she collects on each trip to the Valley.

Monterey Fair garden award won by Valleyite

Clyde Glover, who lives in Carmel Valley, won the award given by the city of Monterey to encourage amateur gardeners to help make "our cities more beautiful places in which to live," in the words of the inscription on the trophy.

The trophy, a large silver platter to be known as the "mayor's trophy" was awarded for the first time this year.

Glover designed a "backdoor garden" for his prize-winning entry. Its door was complemented by the purple hues of the ageratum which lined a path, in company with tiny marigolds to a quiet corner.

The adjacent garden, which seems to continue a saunter from Glover's doorstep to another area of his garden, was designed by Glover's daughter, Barbara Emlay of Salinas, a first-prize-winner in its class.

Father and daughter planned their entries together to foster the feeling of a walk through a single garden.

Valley student graduates from aviation school

Andrew F. Fitzgerald III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fitzgerald, Jr., Carmel Valley, was graduated from the Northrop Institute of Technology School of Aviation Maintenance, Inglewood.

He was awarded a certificate of completion in the airframe and powerplant curriculum and is now eligible to take the Federal Aviation Agency examinations for the airframe and powerplant certificate.

The Northrop Institute School of Aviation Maintenance operates in conjunction with the College of Engineering--an accredited, four-year institution which specializes in engineering programs oriented to aeronautical, electronic and space age activities.

Community Center asks for a share of Peninsula Drive

A request for support of the Carmel Valley Community Youth Centre by the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest was referred to the Executive committee of the Chest at the last meeting of directors.

A goal of $264,000 was set for the coming campaign, after Campaign Chairman Lloyd Mayland pointed out "that the community is capable of producing this 24% increase."

He said that the Monterey Peninsula ranked third in affluence but lowest in per capita giving among 10 comunity fund areas of comparable size across the nation.

He predicted success with acceptance of the "fair share" concept, which means contributions of 1/2 to 1% of an individual's income if below $10,000 per year and 1% if over $10,000.

Among directors present were Dr. Ed Marcucci and Eldon Covell of Carmel Valley; Robert Littlefield and Leo Tanous of Carmel; and Emile Bouhaben, Ralph Drummond, Mrs. John Julian and Dr. George Thorngate Sr. of Pebble Beach.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

The entire exterior of Carmel Middle School has been painted, this being the first repaint job since the school was built six years ago. The lockers as well as the structures are now freshly painted. The job will be 75% completed by the first day of school and the remaining parts will be done quickly thereafter. Some classrooms have been rearranged to make room for classes for the educationally handicapped.

Within the office there are some changes to allow extra preparation areas for teachers.

TULARCITOS

Considerable face-lifting and inside improvements have perked up Tularcitos School this summer.

Outside, some handsome stone masonery work has added three planter boxes beneath covered walkways and a double stone-walled terrace on the outside corner of the school grounds has improved the looks there.

The flag pole has been moved to the center of the terraced area, and another stone-walled bed for shrubs beautifies the inner court.

The old dirt playground to the west of the school is being tilled and planted with turf, which will have a sprinkler system.

A new lawn has been planted along the front. A parking area has been black-topped.

Inside, walls have been removed to put rooms together, to facilitate team-teaching, for the third grade and for science. Tan carpets, similar to those added last year in the library, have been installed in the two enlarged rooms.

The multipurpose room has been improved with wood paneling on the end wall around the serving counters and at the other end of the room, where two small rooms have been built into corners. The storage room for chairs has been improved, and now has a door.

Inside painting is being done in most rooms, whose floors are being scrubbed and waxed.

Ernest A. Kufis, head custodian, emphasized that the work, including laying carpet and cementing the stone walls, has been done by the school custodian staff.

CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL

During the past year and continuing through the summer months, Carmel High has been completely renovated. The entire school, including lockers has been painted for the first time in over a decade. The gymnasium has been re-panelled, the bleachers refinished, and sprinkler systems and curbs have been installed at the girls' playfield. Two more classrooms have had their lighting updated and lawns and athletic fields have been fertilized and improved, ready for the first games and class days.

CARMELO SCHOOL

A sprinkler system has been installed around the front and new library at Carmelo School. Existing lawn areas have been expanded and a one acre turf field is under contemplation.

The entire building has been repainted and carpets have been installed in many of the classrooms. Some rooms have been remodled with walls removed for large group teaching areas.

RIVER SCHOOL

River School in Carmel has had a completely new roof installed and the original units of the school have been rehabilitated and reconstructed where necessary. All four classrooms have modern lights now, and sound facilities.

The front lawn has been planted, dead strubs removed and a sprinkler system installed.

WOODS

A lot of work was done on Woods School and roof just before school was out for the summer. A sprinkling system and lawn were installed as well as carpeting in some of the rooms. This summer most of the money spent at Woods went underground when a major four inch pipeline burst and had to be completely replaced since the existing section went underneath the slab of the school itself.

CAPTAIN COOPER

Little was done aside from extensive weed control on poison oak at Captain Cooper School. The school was built prior to its being included in the district with Federal Funds and is still in excellent shape.

Every school in the Carmel District has received its share of facelifting this summer, according to business manager Walt Hinton.

It's almost unbelievable to see how much has been accomplished in the past two years. For the first time in many years, buildings and grounds are looking as they should, was his conclusion.

New hi school courses

Seventeen new courses, plus a program of independent study, will be offered at Carmel High School this fall, Principal Arthur Gumbrell announced.

The new tutorial program invites students to present their own plan of work in such fields as reading and/or writing in areas of special interest, such as modern poetry, war or American drama.

New courses include Study of Minorities, Modern Media, Literature of Alienation, Film Production, Literature in Film, Shakespeare, Revolutionary Change in Modern America, Minority Cultures in American Life, Anthropology and Logic, Humanities in the Urban Setting, Consumer Math/Consumer Education, Science Survey, Marine Biology Survey, Computer Science Survey, Chemistry Survey and Astronomy.

Those unable to pre-register or pick up their class schedules on the above dates may report to the school cafeteria on Sept. 10, 1968 for registration and/or schedule information.

Classes will begin at 8:10 on Sept. 10, 1968 for all 5th & 6th grade students and those 7th & 8th grade students enrolled in an elective (band, chorus, typing, etc.). Classes for those 7th & 8th grade students not enrolled in an elective will begin at 9:00 a.m.

5th & 6th graders will be dismissed at 2:35 and 7th & 8th grade students at 3:20.

During the 1968-69 school year all 5th & 6th grade Reading, English, Math & Soc. Studies teachers will be teaching in two areas instead of only one as in the past.

This 5th & 6th grade team will be composed of eight teachers, four of which will teach Soc. Studies and Math while the other four will be teaching English and Reading.

This arrangement offers several opportunities:

There is the opportunity to be selective in placing students with certain teachers.

There is the opportunity for ability grouping in each of the four disciplines regardless of student placement in any one discipline.

There is an opportunity for non-graded grouping in the gifted track. (i.e. 5th grade students taking reading with 6th grade students)

Ordinarily students will have the same teacher for two subjects (rather than four teachers he will now have only two).

5th & 6th grade students will be located in one area of the campus for several consecutive periods (3 and in some cases 4 periods).

Other features of past 5th & 6th grade student scheduling which have been retained are:

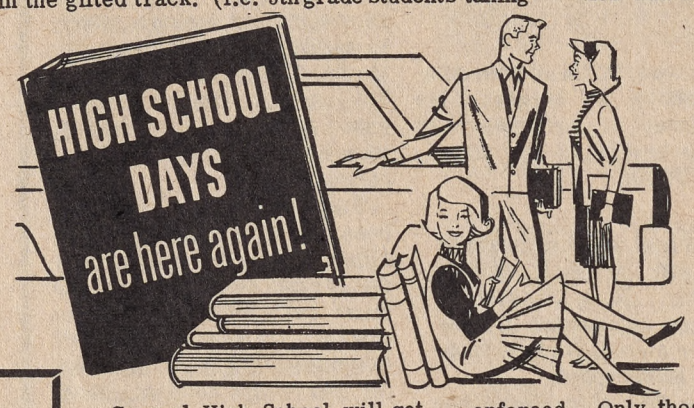
(2) A choice of French and Spanish is offered as a part of the regular course of study.

(3) Some common preparation periods for any given team of teachers.

(4) Opportunities for large/small group instruction and teaming on an intra/interdisciplinary basis.



Carmel High begins with student meeting

Carmel High School will get under way Tuesday Sept. 10 with a gathering of all students at the football field at 8 a.m.

Individual class schedules will be distributed and students will swing into a full day of classes.

New students, except former Middle School students, may register Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, Aug. 26-28.

Football practice isscheduled to begin Monday Aug. 26 with suits issued Saturday Aug. 24 for the varsity at 10 a.m. and the JVs at 1 p.m.

A "physicians statement and parent's consent" form and "interscholastic athletes exam report" are to be filed before these times. A doctor will be at the boys' gym to give physicals between 10 a.m. and noon Friday Aug. 23, for a cost of $4.00, for those who do not have exams elsewhere.

An orientation meeting for all new Carmel High students including Middle School grads, will be held Tuesday Sept. 3 from 1 to 3 p.m. in Brey Hall. Student council members will meet that day at noon.

Tests are scheduled for all students new to Carmel High Tuesday, except those who attended Middle School, - on Sept. 3 from 10 a.m. to noon in Brey Hall.

To gather information, students who did not attend summer session courses as planned, are asked to confer with Neil Jensen or Miss Dorothy Wright from Aug. 16 to 21 between 9 and 11 a.m.

Because of problems connected with a complex master schedule, Arthur Gumbrell, principal, pointed out that students will not be allowed to make program changes. After classes start, teachers will notify counselors if students are in wrong classes and adjustments will be made.

He also emphasized that parking of cars and student driving rules will be strictly enforced. Only those students who must drive daily can be assigned parking spaces. Students and parents must request space and state reasons.

"Students issued permits," he added, "must abide by all parking, driving and operation rules, which will include not leaving the campus in an automobile or other vehicle until final departure for the day."

All Saints' Episcopal Day School begins September 10

All Saints' Episcopal Day School in Carmel Valley will be starting classes on September 10 along with the schools in the Carmel Unified School District.

About 95 students are expected, enrolled in grades from kindergarten through sixth. Children from all over the Peninsula attend All Saints' with pupils coming from Monterey, Seaside, Pacific Grove, Pebble Beach, Carmel and Carmel Valley. The school is open to children of all races or creeds.

Three teachers from last year will be returning. Mr. James Kohnke, Miss Beverly Lyon and Mrs. George Faser will be back at their desks. Miss Georgia Hedrick, who is a former Bishop Kip teacher, is returning to the faculty after a year's absence.

A new appointment is Father Hugh Harris who has been a teacher in Southern California. Recently he has been working with schools and youth groups in Africa.

OPENINGS

There are openings in some grades, according to Mrs. Howard Pattee, assistant to headmaster Father Peter Farmer. Persons interested in more information may call the school office at 624-9171.

Mrs. Howard B. Allen is president of the Mothers' Club, which actively lends its support to the school. Last year they were responsible for acquiring the All Saints' school bus which they got with blue chip stamps. The bus brings children from all the Peninsula areas but does not travel out the upper Valley Road.

Science teacher attends institute

Roland Schut, eighth grade science teacher at Carmel Middle School, is one of 109 participants from 25 states and Canada taking part in institutes for teachers of science and mathematics at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tennessee.

The eight week session is one of two National Science Foundation institutes being conducted there to improve the teaching of science and math, and is under the direction of Dr. Gus Tomlinson, chairman of the college biology department.

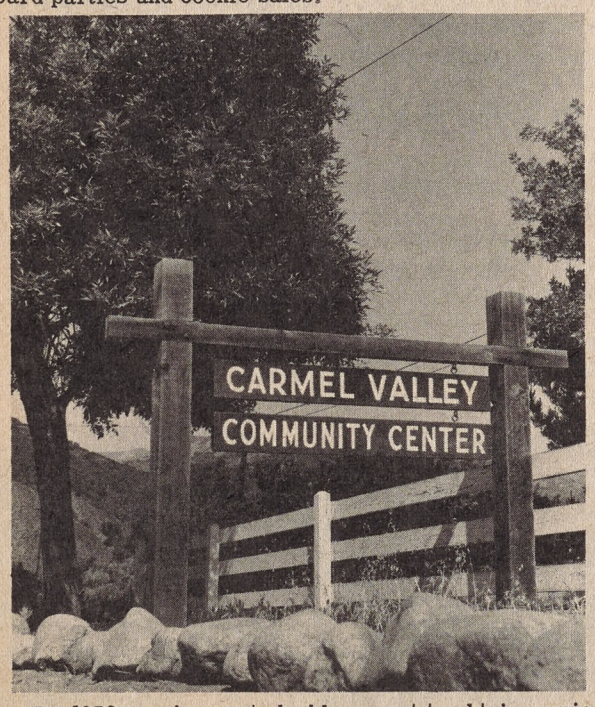
Valley Community Center has an interesting history

A look into the backgrounds of the Carmel Valley Community Center and the Carmel Valley Youth Organization, which have co-existed with the Community Center building as their base for the past three years, may help to show how a merger was a natural outgrowth of their development. This is the first of a series of three articles.

In 1951 a group of civic-minded citizens met to find a way to provide an adequate building for youth activities and for general civic purposes.

The organization was incorporated with the following board of directors: E. J. Dawley, Fred V. Whelan, Mrs. R. B. Stoney, Mrs. Thomas Verga, Paul Porter, Wendell Redding, Mrs. C.A. Borchers, Seth T. Hogge, D.C. Cummings and Mrs. Ralph Stean.

Land was purchased near the firehouse, but this was sold when rezoning was refused and the present Ford Road site was purchased. There followed in the next few years a most amazing variety of fund raising efforts; nearly every such effort in the valley listed the Community Center as its beneficiary. Carmel Valley Women's Club sponsored many such events as did other clubs and many organizations and indivuals banded together to present the Community Center Benefit Variety Show, a carnival-street dance, card parties and cookie sales.



By 1953 requirements had been met to obtain monies from the Crosby Fund to defray one-half of the cost of construction of the center and ground was broken that fall.

In February, 1954, the Center held its first social function and open house for residents to view the completed building. The building was put to immediate use by many youth and civic organizations and the teen-age group of the time, known as the Pasa Tiempo Club, was reported "off to a fresh start with a luxurious new meeting place provided"! But with a mortgage of $10,000 plus operating expenses the fund-raisers could not rest yet, and there followed continuous festivals, dances and other activities to benefit the Community Center.

Finally, weary of these methods of support for an organization which seemed to be serving a large percentage of the population, an attempt was made in 1955 to form a recreation district which would have provided financing by taxation with a local board of directors. This proposal was defeated, and somehow the fund-raisers rallied and operation continued.

At one time aid was given by the Community Chest but this later was withdrawn and the Center has relied entirely on local support since then. The mortgage was paid through a donation from the Carmel Valley Women's Club of $3,340.18 in 1959 (a new mortgage was taken later to finance the construction of the pool, so the center is still not debt-free).

SWIM POOL DREAM

The idea of adding a swimming pool on the Community Center property was a dream from the beginning of the Center idea, but it was not until 1963 that a real effort began to raise money to make pool construction a reality. Again, the fund raisers came forth with new activities and managed to raise some of the funds necessary - finally the board of directors reluctantly took a mortgage on the then debt-free building and the summer of 1964 Carmel Valley children and adults were happily swimming at the Community Pool.

By 1966 the bath house was completed, again through donations of money, time and labor. Carmel Unified School District now operated the pool; lessons are provided on weekday mornings with recreational swimming during the afternoon and on weekends. In addition, the pool is used by the Barracuda Swim Team and the Cypress Swim Club.

The Carmel Valley Youth Organization came into existence early in 1966 after a group of teen-agers and interested adults met with representatives of valley organizations to form a corporation which would provide a recreational program for the teen-aged youth of Carmel Valley. This group was granted free use of the Community Center building for its activities.

YOUTH RAISE FUNDS

They had their own fund raising events to pay a director, and help with expenses of their activities. In addition, they have operated a snack bar in conjunction with the swimming pool and have provided Saturday movies for Carmel Valley youngsters.

Their primary goal has been to provide a place for youth to gather in a wholesome atmosphere; to be a "teen-club". Their activities have included beach parties, hayrides, dances, picnics, evening movies and car rallies.

The recent merger of these two corporations combines the financing and maintenance of the building and pool with the challenge of providing a program for young people at the Center. All of the youth activities and operation of the corporation now are handled by a 15-member board of directors aided - hopefully - by committee members from the community.

A paid director coordinates teen-age activities. The pre-teen program (the OK's) is handled by volunteers. Both youth groups use the building without charge as do the Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Little League, Gun Safety Class and Drug Information Center.

Other groups use the Center on a rental basis, including the Carmel Valley Women's Club, Upper Valley Advisory Board, Alcoholics Anonymous, Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, Square Dance Callers, Cabrillo Dog Club, Lions Club, lionettes, Carmel Board of Realtors, Women's Auxiliary of the Fire Department, Walston and Co, Monterey County Landowners, Cachagua Property Owners, Bridge Club and Exercise Group.

The present board of directors includes: George Clifford, president; Dick McKenzie, Mrs. Rex Pryer, Fred Bohme, Mrs. Roger Sherman, Gordon Harlander, Mrs. Robert May, Harry Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George Glendenning, Mal Tavares, Charlie Gansel, Mrs. Thomas Graff, Mrs. Robert Gross and Mrs. Harvey Deal.

Next week: Present problems and Future Plans.

NICK AND TEDRA Capaci will be instructing in graphics using this lithograph press. Both are graduates of California College of Arts and Crafts. The stone (not visible under the paper) is inked and the impression is rolled off onto the sheet, making the print.

Classes to begin at new Graphic Center in Sunset

Classes will begin at the Monterey Graphics Center in Sunset Cultural Center in Carmel about the same time as classes resume in the public schools.

The Graphic Center will not be teaching the three R's however. It has been founded to develop interest and knowledge in the arts of lithography, serigraphy, etching and woodcut.

Artist Pat Carey has organized a group of talented persons who will teach the various arts as well as using the equipment to do their own works.

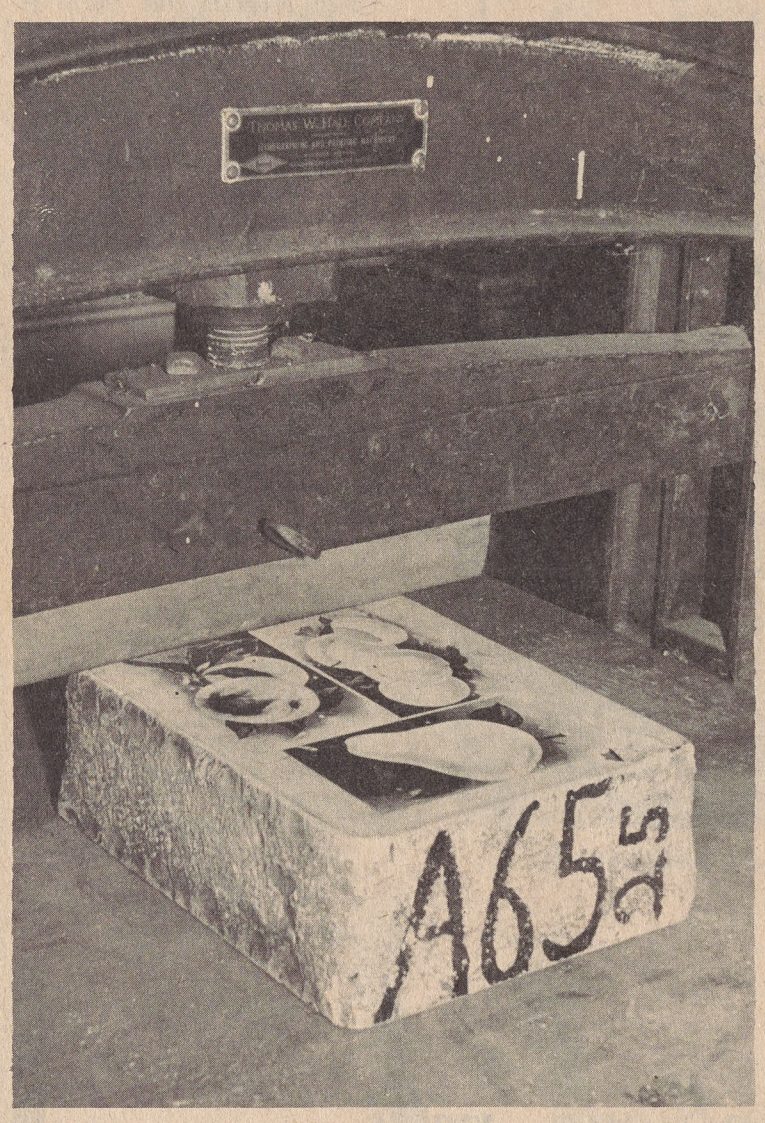
"People are so oriented to color they've forgotten what subtlety and beauty there is in black and white," Pat said. "We hope to sort of re-educate the public to appreciate these arts which have become almost extinct. Aquatints, color in serigraphs and and wood cuts will also be utilized, but the basic art in black and white will be stressed.

The art of serigraph will be taught by well-known Peninsula artist Howard Bradford. His paintings and serigraphs are currently on exhibit at the Seaside City Hall.

A member of the Western Serigraph Institute and American Color Print Society, Bradford furthered his work and research in this medium through a Guggenheim Fellowship for Creative Print making in 1960.

Nick and Tedra Capaci will be teaching graphics and using an old lithograph press which Eldon and Virginia Dedini have loaned the Center.

Nick is presently instructing in crafts at the Presidio of Monterey. He and Tedra both graduated from the California College of Arts and Crafts at Oakland, specializing in graphics.



ONE OF THE LITHOGRAPH STONES which the group was able to find in an antique shop in San Francisco. In order to remove the original design, the stones are rubbed together over and over, grinding off the first and making a fresh surface on which to work. It is a long and tedious process. The drawing or design is worked on the stone with a greasy material and the impression is produced by the ink adhering to the drawn areas.

Story and photos by Ginnie Drew

ELDON DEDINI clowns as he says..."I've only loaned them the press...I didn't give it to them!" Dedini and his wife Virginia (artist Virginia Conroy) have lent the Graphic Center the old lithograph press which used to belong to Paul Whitman and has seen many years of service in Carmel.

Lithograph, woodcut and etching will be taught

The group has been busy tracking down old lithograph stones which are not only very scarce but very expensive.

When the lithograph press as such became obsolete, the stones were thrown into San Francisco Bay by the thousands...or used to build houses. Now they are found mainly in antique or curio shops at a premium price.

The Center also has a book press which was built in 1926. This will turn out about 2,000 pages an hour.

Rupert Halley, who has an MA in fine arts will be teaching intaglio. There is presently a small etching press in the workshop, but they are hopeful of locating a larger one.

Claudia Peacock, who also has an MA in Fine Arts, is working in etching, but her main interest is taking care of the equipment.

Steve Brown, artist and former curator of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Gallery, will also be doing etchings.

Dick Crispo, young Carmel Valley artist, will be teaching the old art of woodcut, beginning with one color block and then advanced instruction will cover more than one tone.

Classes will be conducted on a regular basis, but the Center will also provide a place where persons who already have the knowledge can work. Charge will be a minimum of $10 for five half-day sessions The Graphic Center will provide the gum arabic and other supplies, but the student must bring paper and etching tools.

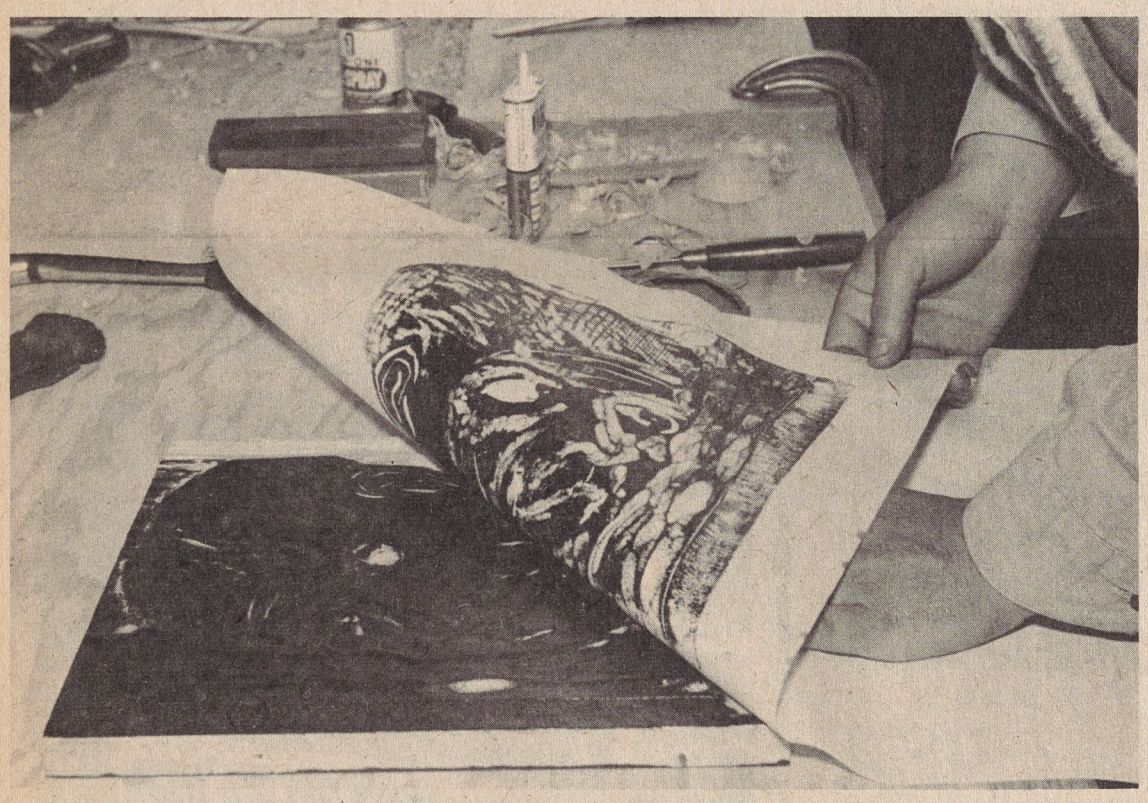
PAT CAREY (left) and Tedra Capaci show off the old book press which will also be utilized at the Center. It was built in 1926 and will produce 2000 pages an hour. The Graphic Center in Sunset Complex in Carmel developed from Pat's interest in graphics, combined with a number of qualified instructors in the area.



THE BLOCK has been inked and the finished print is being pulled. A smooth piece of bamboo was used to press the paper firmly on the block. Bamboo is used because it slides easily and evenly, according to teacher Dick Crispo.

VALLEY ARTIST DICK CRISPO carves away excess material on a block for woodcuts. He will be instructing in the process of woodcut, primarily in black and white. Advanced instruction in more than two color will follow.

A HUMANE REQUEST TO THE OWNER OF A MOSTLY BLACK GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG

If your dog runs loose in the hills above Carmel Valley Village on the north side - matches the above meager description and wears a collar with a brass tag - this dog is a killer and should be restrained.

Six weeks ago a female deer was hamstrung and killed by dogs on my property, orphaning two fawns. On Sunday morning, August 11th, this dog, in company with a liver colored pointer type, attacked the two orphan fawns but I was able to drive them off before any injury occurred. On the same trespass they also attacked a doe and two fawns and were again driven off. On Monday, the 12th, they again attacked the same doe and the four fawns and, though driven off, went in pursuit of the deer with what results I do not know at this writing. I have also seen this dog in company with another shepherd chase cattle and deer on the adjoining Holman Ranch.

In the name of compassion, I ask the owner of this dog - which is obviously the leader in these predatory attacks - to restrain it at least during the remaining summer and fall seasons in order that these fawns may reach sufficient maturity to have a chance of escaping maiming and death. Is this too much to ask?
